Rise in Ganges River Has Broken all Records During Thirty Years

CAWNPORE, India, Nov. 11.—The great rise of the Ganges river, which has broken all records of the past 30 years, had led to the flooding of vast districts on the Unao side. Many villages on both sides of the railway line to Unao are under water, and hundreds of hamlets have been washed away.

In some places the rise of the river was so sudden that people who were in the fields tending their cattle or crops were cut off. Many were compelled to take refuge in trees until the floods subsided. Others were rescued by relief parties. The railway line between Kathgarhi and Got has been washed out for about 700 feet, and cannot be repaired for some time. The railway connection with Delhi also has been cut. The Lucknow road is still impassable in many places and no communication is possible with outlying villages.

Large supplies of food, sent by the citizens of Cawnpore, have helped to relieve the distress.
